

GGB for Bruiser

Written by Hannie

Thursday, 23 February 2012 18:14 -

On februari 15 Bruiser passed his first official Dutch Obedience Test (GGB). The Dutch Obedience test is slightly different in style than the English. The test is longer, with 10 different excersises in the B, wich stands for Beginners, and is the lowest class. Although Bruiser missed one excersise wich costed 30 points, he still had 252 outof 320 points, and he needed 224 to pass. I am very proud of this boy, who now needs to get more experience in the obedience ring. 